ALLIES WILL HEAR PEACE TERMS AT A SECRET SESSION

Public Announcement Will Come After Peace Terms Details.

LLOYD GEORGE MAY GIVE HINT OF PRICE HUN MUST PAY ALLIES

Is Scheduled to Address Parliament on Work At Paris.

(Associated Press Telegram) Details of the peace conference will be given at the historic meeting of allied and German representatives at Versailles, a week from Friday are being worked out by the allied delegations to the peace conference. It is probable that the world will know the exact demands of the allied governments until after the Germans have been formally appraised of the price of peace.

It seems, however, that not only the allied governments but the governments of those countries which severed relations with Germany but did not enter the war, will be informed as to the details of the proposed treaty for this purpose. It is likely that a secret plenary session of the peace conference will be held before April 25. All England is waiting with intense interest the address which Premier Lloyd George will make in the house of commons today. Lloyd George had been under fire from politicians for some time and the Northcliffe publications have been especially vigorous in their attacks on his reported activities at Paris and he is expected to reply to his critics. It is probable, however, that he will do more than outline in most general terms the work that has been done by the peace conference, their being, it is said, a tacit understanding between Lloyd George, President Wilson and Premier Clemenceau and Orlando that no details are to be made public at present. The fact that the British premier had decided to open the debate in the house of commons, however, would appear to indicate his readiness to defend his work at Paris, and his defense may bring out some significant statements.

The council of four in which Arthur J. Balfour, British secretary of state for foreign affairs, has temporarily taken the place of Premier Lloyd George, is at present devoting itself to efforts to settle the controversy between Italy and Jugoslavia relative to the eastern shore of the Adriatic. In addition to this, it is declared in a semi-official news agency dispatch that the Schleswig-Holstein problem in which Denmark and Germany are at odds had been adjusted by the management of a referendum to the people of the province.

Violent fighting has occurred at Munich between German government and Soviet troops, the latter seeming to have won at least a temporary victory. It is probable, however, that the battle will be renewed as the German forces have been reinforced. Anarchy is said to reign in the city. Government troops also have been engaged in quite serious encounters at Magdeburg, where radical elements which have been in control for the last few days are reported to be still prevalent throughout Rumanian forces in Bessarabia have been forced to retire before Russian soviet troops and further north the army of Simon Lura, the peasant leader of the Ukraine, have been driven westward a considerable distance. In these regions the Russian Bolsheviks are making a desperate attempt to cut a way through to Hungary so that they may join their comrades in Budapest.

A clash along the Polish frontier is said to have resulted in casualties. OIL COMPANY TO PUSH OPERATIONS

Value of Field in northeastern Licking County Is Placed at $100,000.

The Midland Oil company, with offices in this city, which has been operating near Ravenscroft, where it holds between 4,000 and 5,000 acres of leases, and upon which it already has a production of oil, closed a deal yesterday with some eastern operators from Pennsylvania which brings the immediate future look very bright to the interested in the company's welfare. SNOW STORM STOPS TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHT

St. Johns, N. F., April 16.—With a heavy snow storm raging here this morning it was considered doubtful whether a start could be made today in the attempted trans-Atlantic flight. Both Harry G. Hawker, Australian pilot of the Sopwith biplane and Captain Frederick P. Raynham, the British pilot of the Martinville plane, are ready to start at the first favorable opportunity.

PERMANENT SEA WINDS WILL INFLUENCE FLIERS WHO ATTEMPT ATLANTIC FLIGHT

Some of the permanent sea winds with which ocean fliers must contend.

The permanent and nearly permanent sea winds will influence greatly the routes taken by the fliers who attempt to cross the Atlantic, the altitude at which they fly and many other details of their trips. The map shows these permanent winds that sweep the ocean. The direction and velocity of the winds vary at different heights. The reason why the first flights will be attempted from the North American shore to Europe is made plain by the map shows that the winds are from west to east across the northern part of the Atlantic.

HOT CONTEST DEVELOPS BETWEEN CITY AND COUNTY LOAN WORKERS

Sentiment in Rural Districts Fill County Committee With Confidence But City Workers Say They'll Beat Country Friends to Goal.

The Victory Loan committee met last evening at the Masonic Temple with the various factions of the county organization committee. The attendance was good and all of the teams were lined up for active work. Much depends upon this organization and the entire plan was clearly laid before the meeting. The workers realized their responsibilities and all seemed to feel confident that the outcome would be entirely satisfactory and in no wise mar the perfect record that Licking county has made during the past two years of war work.

Chairman Wright in his statement called attention to the fact that many people have been holding back their money for investment in the "next loan." As there is to be no next loan it is expected that the very attractive features of this will result in a heavy oversubscription.

Furthermore, the terms of payment are unusually liberal. 10 per cent at the time of subscription; 10 per cent July 11 and 20 per cent each in August, September, October and November.

No over-subscriptions will be accepted and preference will be given to small subscribers over large.

C. H. Davis, chairman of the organization committee, explained that it is very important that everybody understand thoroughly the great advantages of this loan and the unusual opportunities it affords.

This knowledge properly disseminated will be sufficient to result in a heavy subscription, it was declared. The requests were made at the meeting for subscription blanks to be used at once, many workers not desiring to wait until the flag falls on Tuesday morning to begin the race.

Undoubtedly strong rivalry will come into being and every effort will be made to reach the 100 per cent efficiency heretofore attained.

Special flags will be awarded to the factories which attain the 100 per cent efficiency and it is expected that all of the factories in Newark will float the Victory Loan pennant when the smoke has cleared away.

The last report was the county organization committee. It brought in most encouraging news regarding the sentiment in the country districts. The members believe the county is going to win in its customary contest with the city. However the city men present were confident of the ability of the county of the country districts to equal the city brand of patriotism. As the matter stands the contest promises to be a pretty one.

Danger of overconfidence was pointed out by the committee in a statement issued Tuesday. While terms for the fifth loan are attractive and promising, these very facts tend to make the community think the job is too easy for hard work. It is this erroneous impression that the committee is trying to overcome.

"Over-confidence is the only danger feared by the war work committee. The fact that the peace conference is in session and our soldiers are returning to their homes may work against the Fifth Liberty loan.

"As a matter of fact, these things ought to help, but many people unthinkingly exclaim, that it's all over and we must be tending to our own business. If they stop to moment to consider the matter they would realize that this war and everything that has to do with it is absolutely the most important matter in their lives and in the lives of their families and the lives of the community.

DR'S STILL SEEK LAW TO ENFORCE NEW AMENDMENT

Emergency Clause Fails Again In House and Senate

WETS ISSUE DEFY; WILL FIGHT EMERGENCY MEASURE

Seek "Nuisance" Law To Make Amendment Effective In Ohio.

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, April 16.—The legislature will recess tomorrow until May 5. Both houses today adopted a joint resolution by Senator Whitmore of Summit, providing for the recess. Many important bills including a large portion of the taxation program will go over until after the recess.

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, April 16.—Having failed yesterday to secure passage of an emergency clause to the prohibition amendment bill, which has now passed both houses, which would make the bill effective, by May 27 when the prohibition amendment becomes effective, dry leaders will attempt today to amend existing laws against the illegal sale of liquor in dry territory, making them conform to the state wide prohibition amendment. Representative Crabbe introduced two bills in the house last night containing these amendments. The emergency clause being attached to each.

Wets served notice today that they would resist passage of these bills as emergency measures. Should these amendments, fail dry members of the legislature may propose a recess of the legislature until June or after the prohibition amendment to the constitution takes effect. "Hoping by that time to convince the members of the assembly that an emergency exists" said Representative Clark. There is to be a referendum on the Crabbe prohibition bill and the people will be given an opportunity to vote on the bill next November. L. H. Gibson, manager of the Ohio Home rule association announced today.

"We do not fear going before the people with the measure" said A. J. White, head of the Ohio anti-saloon league. "However," said White, "the real emergency is here, as a referendum will delay the operation of the Crabbe bill passed by both houses until after the November election."

It is to provide machinery for enforcing the prohibition law from May 27 until November that the amendments to the existing laws are sought. One of these existing laws declares a place where liquors sold in violation of laws to be a "nuisance." Another provides for search-and-seizure of liquor in dry territory. All these laws are proposed to be amended to make it unlawful to manufacture as well as to sell and providing penalties for violating the prohibition amendment to the constitution.

RUSSIAN NOBLEMEN FLEE FROM COUNTRY

Paris, April 16.—Twenty members of the former Russian imperial family, including former Russian ambassador Marie Feodorovna, Duchess Constantinople from the Crimea several days ago, according to Murel Havin in the Echo de Paris.

They included the former Grand Duke Nicholas Nicolaievitch at one time commander in chief of the Russian army, and Peter Nicolaievitch lieutenant general in the Russian army and a younger brother of Nicholas. Nicholas and Peter, the married sisters of the Queen of Italy, having been invited to reside in Rome, have left Constantinople for the Italian capital on an Italian steamship.

Others in the party, including the dowager empress, will go to Malta on board a British warship while they will await the decision of the British government as to their future place of residence.

FRENCH DEPUTIES DEMAND DAMAGES

Paris, Tuesday, April 15.—The budget committee of the chamber of deputies today unanimously adopted a resolution demanding that the government should pay damages to the war-exacted enemy countries with priority of indemnity to Germany's present ally and future Germany's present ally and future Germany's present ally.

Replying in the house of commons today to previous criticisms of his activities at the peace conference in Paris, Premier Lloyd George said the situation was "full of peril for all nations," but he promised that those who were trying to do their worst he would be sure to present.

No conference in history, said the premier, had been faced with problems of such variety, complexity, magnitude and gravity. The congress of Vienna, which was the nearest approach to it, took 11 months for its work, but this congress, Lloyd George pointed out, sank into insignificance compared with that which had been settled by this conference.

The time spent by the peace conference in the League of Nations plan saved time instead of wasting it, Lloyd George declared, as the league would provide a means of adjustment of possible errors.

Questions have cropped up at the peace conference which impelled the premier to declare that the conference had surmounted those difficulties.

"It is not true that the United States and Europe have been at variance," the premier declared. "The depression attempts to sow dissensions among the delegates."

"I would rather leave Russia Bolshevik until they see their way out of it rather than see Great Britain landed in bankruptcy," was one of the premier's declarations.

Lloyd George said that it was his earnest conviction that military intervention in Russia would be the greatest act of stupidity.

The premier said reliable information showed that while Bolshevik forces were apparently growing, Bolshevism itself was gradually waning—breaking down before the relentless force of economic facts.

Much as the British government deplores conditions in Russia, the premier concluded, it is not its duty to commit England to a gigantic enterprise in order to improve conditions in Russia. He added:

"Russia is a country very easy to invade and very difficult to get out of. There was no question, he continued, of recognizing Russia. It had never been proposed and had never been discussed."

In answer to a question from John R. Chimes a labor leader, whether approaches for peace had come from the Russian government, the premier said: "I have had no approaches of any sort or kind. None have been put before the conference."

After referring to the world-wide extent of the war, the premier said that new states had sprung into existence, some of them were confederations, some protectorates, and although their boundaries might not be defined some indication of them must be given.

In his review during the earlier portion of his address of the difficulties confronting the peace conference, the premier pointed out that the boundaries of 14 countries had to be recast. The said, would give some idea of the purely territorial difficulties. But, he added, there were problems affecting the peace of the world, and the destiny of the human race and if there were blunders made, humanity would have to pay for them.

SITUATION STILL FULL OF PERILS FOR ALL NATIONS

Premier Lloyd George Asks People To Let Envoys Alone.

INTERVENTION IN RUSSIA WOULD BE STUPID HE SAYS

Is Easy Country to Invade But Hard to Get Out Of.

(Associated Press Telegram) London, April 15.—The allied representatives in Paris have arrived at a complete understanding on the great fundamental questions that would affect peace with Germany, Premier Lloyd George declared in addressing the house of commons today. The allies had formulated their demands, and he hoped that by the end of next week they would be presented.

Replying in the house of commons today to previous criticisms of his activities at the peace conference in Paris, Premier Lloyd George said the situation was "full of peril for all nations," but he promised that those who were trying to do their worst he would be sure to present.

OTHER WORKERS MAY JOIN STRIKE

Telephone Service in New England Crippled By Operators' Walkout—Line-men May Quit.

(Associated Press Telegram) Boston, April 16.—Interpretation of telephone service in New England outside of Connecticut by the strike of operators of the New England and Providence companies continued today. Although company officials looked for some improvement as a result of efforts made to obtain substitute operators.

In the city the tie up was virtually complete. In a few other sections partial service was maintained through the help of the employees of department stores not involved in the strike. Exchange managers in several cities announced that some former employees had taken up work at the switch boards.

Leaders of the strikers asserted that all the union operators were standing firm for their demands for an increase in wages and the privilege of collective bargaining.

The calls either unattended or answered by the New England Telephone company yesterday and today would quit work today unless their wage demands were met. They presented some months ago a more liberal settlement. The people telephone men in joining the strike, they said, were in sympathy with the strikers. They demand a settlement of all pending grievances of both male and female.

Both officials said the action meant a loss of 100,000 of the 1,200,000 work calls a day of the strikers.

UNIVERSALITY.

Readers of the Advocate regaled daily in their homes or offices through these columns with exact, impartial and interesting accounts of happenings here, there and everywhere. Possibly often wonder if the means by which these results are obtained and how a paper in the local field obtains a report of the daily doings of the world as comprehensive as that available to the greatest papers in the largest cities on the continent.
The answer is contained in the caption, "Associated Press." These few words, to the initiated, mean that in addition to the high class reportorial staff known to the city, the Advocate has another staff composed of the keenest and best newspaper men in the world; a staff that instead of being confined to one city is world wide in its scope, that can and does report on the happenings of any city, and the doings of a peace commission sitting half a world away, that is on duty twenty-four hours in the day on the Mexican border and the Arctic circle; that is as much at home in the tropical jungles or a front line trench as our city hall man is in the ante room of the mayor's office.
"By The Associated Press," seen in these columns, reflects the co-ordination of more than eleven hundred newspapers of the United States in a mutual association by which each individual paper becomes the servant of all, and all the servant of each.
The great metropolitan publications with their enormous staffs and facilities are at the service of the small town daily. The small daily is also bound in honor in the service of the greater publications. In addition, through its membership in the Associated Press, each member paper has also the service of numerous correspondents in other lands, some of them employees of news agencies with which the Associated Press working affiliation, and others, staff men of the Associated Press itself.
As a member of this great cooperative organization and under the caption "By The Associated Press," the Advocate is able to place before its readers each day the cream of the world news, with absolute assurance that fact and not fancy, truth and not falsehood, is being printed.

EFFICIENCY OF ADVERTISING.

Any trade method that merchants have found helpful over a long period of years, is pretty apt to be based on sound economic law. Therefore the people who claim that advertising adds to the cost of goods, have got to explain away the fact that for generations the most enterprising business men have consistently used advertising.

The writer was recently looking over the files of a newspaper that has been published a full century. Way back before the civil war, that paper was publishing a lot of advertising. Almost any of the old papers would make a similar showing.
The people that feel that advertising is valueless are attacking one of the foundation principles of business success. It will be interesting in this little series of discussions, to consider the value of advertising in a non-advertising community, and how the introduction of advertising spirit affects sales, prices and service.
The four hours a day workers will probably go home and claim they are oppressed by the boss, who works eight at the office and spends eight hours more planning how to keep the business going.
Now it remains to be seen whether the people who stood on the sidewalk and hollered when the boys entrained for the war will pay down any cash to get 'em home. Buy Victory bonds and W. S. S.

It is hard to see why anyone risks his life in the burglary business now, when by swapping worthless securities for liberty bonds he can get so much more money with comparative safety.

The merchants who are perfectly satisfied with the amount of business they are doing, should not advertise, as they might get some more that they didn't know what to do with.

Some of the men who think the Easter fashion parade is contrary to the spirit of the day, also disapprove of their wives buying any new clothes at any time of the year.

Reason why people don't plant more trees nowadays is that no known variety will grow up and give them shade in 60 days before they move somewhere else.

During the war the soldiers learned to dig in, and already the neighbor's chickens have showed that they have learned this element in military science.

Some of these once a year church attendants at Easter think it is mighty strange the church does not do more work in the community.

According to the Bolsheviks, if the capitalistic and dangerous practice of saving money can only be stopped, all social evils will be done away.

A large number of people about now are getting ready to fulfill all their religious duties by making their annual call on God on Easter Sunday.

When the Huns talk real good and peaceable, about then look out for his soft football in some new place.

After July 1 back yard gardeners will have to make frequent journeys to the cellar to fix their tools.

Principal difficulty "over there" just now is maintaining order in the peace negotiations.

DON'T WORRY.

(Ohio State Journal)
We are admonished not to worry. Good advice, good for the body and the soul. But there should accompany the advice a specific, telling us how to follow it. As a matter of fact, the will does not dominate in the regions of worry. One may be thoroughly convinced that worry is bad for him and resolve not to do it, but keep on worrying in spite of all his mental protests. It is situations that bring on worry, and nothing but situations can provide escape from it. One must seek some other circumstances that project different outlooks and these alone drive off worry. Philosophy and worry are strangers. Philosophy will do when things run smooth, but when one is shooting shoals he will worry until he gets out of them. So, if you are worrying, dear friend, go away from yourself and get with the dogs, the chickens, the hopscotch and the romping girls.

All the world's a stage, and the average man seems to think he is qualified to be a dramatic critic.

A Slight Misunderstanding.
Aunt Caline says—Bill Dadd's youngest girl but one has been away to a music school, an' a short time ago they finished her off, an' none too soon, ter to hear her play on the piano you'd think they wouldn't be nothin' left of it but kindlin' wood. Well, last week she come home a-bringin' a couple o' tall pall girls with her. An' so they at once gave a entertainment fer the so shul upliftin' of the town, as they said. I on Zeke went an' they was quite a considerable poundin' on the piano an' a few atteny's—vurry panical. At last a man set down an' jest simple hit into that there piano, scan'ous. A girl which was a-setting near Uncle Obie Still says to him, says she, "Do you like Paderewski?" she says, condescending like, "Oh, yes," says Uncle Obie, "well, enough," he says, "though I'm old-fashioned enough to prefer the old style night shirt," he says. "Sir," says she, "I didn't come here to be insulted," she says. "No, I expect not," he says, surprised-like. "Neither did I," says he. "In fact," says he, "I don't think none of us did," he says.

Did You Know?
That in the 16th century toasted bread formed a favored addition to English drinks? Sack was drunk with toast and so was punch, and when the practice of drinking healths developed it became the custom to describe a woman whose health was so drunk as herself a "toast." The term is now applied, not only to any person, but also to any sentiment mentioned with honor before drinking.

WRITING LETTERS.

(Columbus Citizen.)
Time was when the youngsters who went to the big cities to make their way in the world rather laughed at the old folks when the latter urged them to write home frequently. The boys thought it was something of an imposition to ask them to take time from their business and pleasure every day or so to pen a note to the folks. They viewed the letters from home rather casually. Home was too close-by, too easy to reach, to make them feel its temporary loss very keenly.
But when these same chaps arrived "over there" and began yearning for joy when a letter from home reached them, they soon learned what it is to wait with anxious longing for the mail man and to feel that dreary sinking of the heart when he fails to stop. They discovered that the loneliest feeling in the world is when the expected letter from home fails to arrive and they learned how important letters are. They realized the inestimable cheer it brings to have the loved ones at home write lengthily and often.
And now when they are back in America and scouting away from the old firesides again to land jobs in other cities, they'll stop and think and apply the reverse English to the situation. They'll reciprocate by writing back to the old folks at home lengthily and often.

RHEUMATISM IS RELIEVED

Many rheumatic people suffer pains that could be avoided by building up the blood. When rheumatism is associated with thin blood the rheumatism cannot be corrected beyond the possibility of a relapse until the blood is built up.

Mrs. May Buchanan, whose address is R. F. D. No. 19, Sparta, Mich., found a remedy for the rheumatic pains. She says:

"I suffered for the greater part of two years with muscular rheumatism, which was hastened in my case by exposure to cold and over-work. I had no appetite, was weak and nervous, couldn't do my work and for several weeks was confined to bed. The pains were dull aching and were very intense in my hips.

"I was under a doctor's care for a long time but his medicine did not help me. I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a book and gave them a trial. The first few boxes relieved me and in a few weeks I was well. I have a good appetite and am strong and healthy."

The purpose of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is to build up the blood. They do this one thing and they do it well. They are for this reason an invaluable remedy in diseases arising from bad or deficient blood, as rheumatism, neuralgia, after-effects of the grip and fevers. The pills are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any harmful drug and cannot injure the most delicate system.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. A booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be mailed free to any address upon request.

The case of Edgar Wilson vs. The Wehrle Co., has been dismissed for failure to comply with the order of the court to give an additional appeal bond at the cost of plaintiff.

HERE'S THE BIG SURPRISE!

A Pre-Easter Sale of All Ladies' and Misses' Suits

At Reductions of One-Third and More

THIS is an almost inexcusable sale. With wool still scarce and held at high prices and with every yard of uncut cloth worth a premium, what excuse can we give for reducing prices? Here's the whole story in a nutshell. We have sold a great quantity of suits this season and just about 150 remain in stock. These we have decided to close out now at after-Easter clearance prices, thus giving our customers the opportunity of purchasing their suits when they want them most at prices that have been reduced one-third and more.

There are no reservations—the entire stock is embraced in these reductions. Included are the season's most wanted styles, fashioned from Men's-wear Serge, Gabardine, Wool Poplin, Pique Twill, fine Velours, etc., in Failleur models, Box Jackets, Belted Effects and conservative styles. Many are handsomely braided, others have mannish looking vests, while others depend upon their simple tailored lines to gain your favor. Navy is the predominant shade, but there is also a liberal showing of other shades for those who desire them.

We should advise you to be here the first thing in the morning, as this announcement of such an extraordinary event will crowd the ready-to-wear department with eager women who will want to share in this wonderful money-saving opportunity.

Why Beefsteak Is High

This chart was copied from Bulletin No. 226, U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. It is the latest that has been issued. 100=1916 price.

Remember when beefsteak was 20c a pound?

Now it's 40 and 50 cents a pound.

Why?

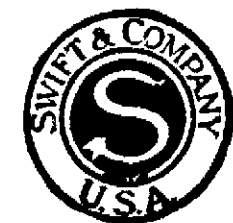

This chart shows that the price packers have had to pay for cattle has gone up with the price received for beef.

In fact, it shows that the "spread" between cattle and beef prices has been gradually reduced during the past 30 years—owing to competition among packers, their increased efficiency, bigger volume, and elimination of waste.

The packer's profit of only a fraction of a cent per pound of meat has helped to narrow this "spread."

Increased farm-production costs have made higher cattle prices necessary.

THE MARKETS

Cleveland Produce.
Cleveland, April 26.--Produce market unchanged.

Wall Street.
New York, April 26.--Further activity and strength attended the opening of today's stock market. Shrimps, oaks, motors and other specialties, as well as equipments again featuring the trading at sums of one to two points.

There was a heavy demand for U. S. Steel, which sent that stock up almost a point to within a fraction of its best price of the year. American Woolen was strongest of the specialties, adding three points to yesterday's substantial gain. Copper, metals and tobacco joined in the more general advance later but rails were listless.

The market boomed during the morning, the first hour's sales approaching half a million shares. Activity was at its height following cables from London which quoted Lloyd George as stating that the leading powers were in complete accord on important subjects affecting the peace treaty. Shrimps and oaks continued to lead, though showing occasional irregularity on heavy selling for profits and U. S. Steel reflected similar technical conditions but kindred shares, oil, textile and rubber, in general, were in process of further accumulation with numerous specialties. Rails also improved moderately on the strength of Southern Pacific and Reading.

Chicago Grain Review.
Chicago, April 26.--Wheat developed in the corn market today as a result of prospective clearing weather and of consequent less likelihood of damaged shipments or to the delay to crop movement. Prices, which ranged from 1-8 to 1-10 lower, with May, 1-7 3/4 to 1-8 1/4, and July, 1-1 3/8 to 1-1 1/2, were followed by a moderate rally.

After opening 1-8 off to 3-8 advance, with July 67 to 67 1/4, the oats market steadied at about yesterday's finish.

Strength in the hog market gave comparative firmness to land and ribs. Pork, though, underwent a setback.

Pittsburgh Live Stock.

Sheep: receipts 11,000; market opened very slow; bidding unevenly lower. Lambs: 81 pounds or less, 18.00@19.75; 85 pounds or better, 17.00@19.00; culls, 12.00@15.00; ewes medium and good, 12.00@15.50; culls and common, 6.00@12.00.

SWISHER SPENDS TRYING HOURS IN SHELL HOLE

William Swisher, a former insurance agent with offices in the Trust Building, arrived in the city yesterday after having been discharged at Camp Sherman with machine gun company of the 37th division. Although beyond the draft age he enlisted on a deserved more than a year abroad and had many thrilling experiences, one of which was being caught in a shell hole for two days and a night without anything to eat or drink. Swisher and his squad were located by German aeroplanes, one of which returned and bombarded the group. Fortunately all escaped. He also escaped a German barrage with shells exploding all around him and the whizzings flying over his head. Swisher will probably relocate in this city.

Did They Quit?

THEY did not. And they are not quitting now. Neither did you while we were winning the war.

Well, are you going to quit now—when the war is won? Our job isn't finished yet—not by a long shot. And it's a man-size job, too—if we are going to turn our victory to real account, if we are going to make from it a more prosperous America and a better world to live in.

We have fighting men to bring home and find jobs for. We have our wounded to care for and our crippled to rebuild into confident, successful citizens. There is still work for our fighting men to do in Europe, if we are to gain from our victory the kind of world we have been fighting for.

It's a big job! If we leave it unfinished now—when the end is in sight—Chateau Thierry and the Meuse will have been fought and won in vain.

There's a bill of some billions of dollars to clean off the slate—before we can call it a day and enjoy the new world that we have won.

Let's finish the job—with this
